

Denka Published the Integrated Report, Denka Report 2020

Denka Company Limited (Headquarters: Chuo-ku, Tokyo; President: Manabu Yamamoto; hereinafter, "Denka") released the Denka Report 2020, its integrated report.

The goal of the Denka Report 2020 brochure is to provide all of our stakeholders, including our shareholders and investors, with a communication tool comprehensively conveying corporate information focused on the creation of new value over the medium to long term from the perspective of addressing environmental, social and governance (ESG) issues.

The report this year describes initiatives particularly driven by the healthcare business segment to tackle the COVID-19 pandemic. In addition, the report discusses our environmentally conscious corporate management with new long-term targets for achieving a carbon-neutral society, to reduce Japan's net emissions of greenhouse gases to zero by 2050. Other initiatives are explained in the report, including initiatives taking on the responsibilities related to and contributing to achieving the SDGs in the context of a circular economy, and work-style reform initiatives as we adapt to a new normal.

The Company strives to be a company that is genuinely essential to society, while fulfilling its social responsibilities through ESG management guided by the SDGs. We will stay committed to continuing to actively disclose information through a broad range of communication tools, including the Denka Report and the ESG information website* in pursuit of our continued contribution to the building of a sustainable society and the enhancement of our corporate value while continuing to develop our communication with stakeholders.
