

Price Revision for Acrylic Special Rubber“DENKA ER” (Export)

Denka Company Limited hereby inform you that we have decided to revise price for acrylic special rubber “DENKA ER”, considering cost increase in our production.

The price increase is more than USD1,000 per metric ton effective from 21th Sep., 2021.

We are facing difficulty of cost increase in our production such as raw materials and cannot absorb all of the cost increase although we are making the best effort to minimize it.

Hence we decided to increase its selling price in order to maintain the stable supply and business continuity.

We deeply appreciate your continuous support and understanding on the price revision.
