

CAUTION Beware of Fake E-mails / Letter

This notice provides information to business partners and customers of Denka so that they may avoid becoming victims of email/letter fraud attempts. Several attempts have been made to obtain payments from customers of Denka products.

The most common technique is through the use of fraudulent notice of change of bank account by emails or letters, with or without fake invoices attached. If you received a fake email or document, do not respond to the sender. If in doubt, please contact Denka's sales representatives of daily transaction.
